Excerpt: . . . would have done; if he afterwards filed his bill for a discovery of the fraud, and made the first mortgagee a party to the bill, unless the latter made a perfect discovery of those facts, how could a court of equity administer R. R. --vol. XLVII. 27 justice without calling upon him to produce the deed The second mortgagee might say to the first incumbrancer, When I advanced my money, 5, 000l. was represented to be due to you, and now it turns out to be 10, 000l. : there must be some collusion between you and the mortgagor, and I desire discovery. It is possible, therefore, to suppose a case where a court of equity would call upon a party to disclose that deed from which evidence of the fraud might be obtained. In the present case I do not see in what way a court of equity could relieve the plaintiff, unless the deed were brought into Court; and as it must be produced at some time or other, why not before the hearing It was said by M1. Romilly that no imputation of fraud rests against the defendant Latimer. Is that so He denies fraud generally; but the question is, whether the facts on which the allegation of fraud is founded are denied. The important question is, whether Latimer is bonafide preventing the Duke of Marlborough from having the personal enjoyment of the goods and chattels at Blenheim, the possession of...
